

Glassman Wealth Services, LLC – Form CRS

Item 1 – Introduction

Glassman Wealth Services, LLC (“we” or “us”) is registered with the Securities Exchange Commission (“SEC”) as an investment adviser. Our services and compensation structure differ from a registered broker-dealer, and it is important for you to understand the differences between those structures. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at www.investor.gov/CRS. The site also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers and investing. The italicized sentences appearing in text boxes below are intended to be “conversation starters” for you to have with us, as required by the instructions to Form CRS.

Item 2 – Relationships and Services

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

As fiduciaries, we provide customized investment advisory and financial planning and consulting services to individuals and their trusts and estates (“you” or “clients”). We provide these services based on each client’s unique circumstances, including their investment objectives, risk tolerance, investment time horizon, withdrawal requirements, tax considerations, and other special circumstances, which we develop through discussions/meetings with our clients. We monitor portfolios periodically and make changes to them as we deem necessary. We manage portfolios on a discretionary basis, which means we have the authority to buy and sell investments in your accounts without speaking to you before doing so. However, you can place reasonable restrictions on the securities that we buy by notifying us, in writing. We do not have to limit the type of securities we trade for clients to proprietary products or a limited group or type of investment, but we generally construct and manage portfolios containing open-end no load mutual funds, with the remainder primarily allocated among exchange traded funds (“ETFs”), exchange traded notes, independent separate account managers/sub-advisers, and private investment funds. We may also agree to provide financial planning and consulting services on a stand-alone separate fee basis. When we provide those services, we rely upon the information clients provide and do not verify or monitor that information because we do not directly implement any aspect of a client’s financial plan, except for the ongoing management of a client’s investments. We monitor portfolios on a periodic basis as part of our advisory services. Account reviews are conducted semi-annually and quarterly depending on the complexity of the client. While we do not monitor certain client-directed securities purchases, we do consider such securities part of the client’s overall asset allocation, tax strategy, risk and financial planning goals, and such assets are included under our investment management fee. We generally require a $2,000,000 minimum asset level and a minimum annual fee of $20,000 for our investment advisory services. In the event that the client is subject to an annual minimum fee, the client could pay a higher percentage fee than referenced above. Our minimum fee can be waived, reduced, or increased. We may recommend that certain qualified clients consider an investment in unaffiliated private investment funds on a non-discretionary basis. Our role relative to the private investment funds will be limited to its initial and ongoing due diligence and investment monitoring services. The client makes the ultimate decision regarding the purchase or sale of investments in private funds offered on a non-discretionary basis. We only offer advice with respect to limited types of products and limit advice on individual securities. Furthermore, we generally do not bill on certain types of 529 plans and donor advised funds, with exceptions for larger managed accounts.

For more detailed information about our Advisory Business and the Types of Clients we generally service, please see Items 4 and 7, respectively in our Form ADV Part 2A.

How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications?
What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3 – Fees, Costs, Conflicts, and Standard of Conduct

What fees will I pay?

We are fee-only advisers who do not accept commissions from third parties for the services we provide to you. For investment advisory services, we charge a negotiable fee based upon the percentage of the market value of assets under our management, generally ranging between 0.25% and 1.25%, which is based upon various objective and subjective factors, such as the amount of the assets under management, the complexity of the engagement, and the level and scope of the overall investment advisory services to be rendered. As a result, similarly situated clients could pay diverse fees. Because this fee is based on the amount of your assets under our management, the more assets you designate to us for management, the more you will pay us for our services. Therefore, we have an incentive to encourage you to increase the amount of assets that you designate for our management. Additionally, as further disclosed on Part 2A of our Form ADV, cash positions (money markets, etc.) shall be included as part of assets under management for purposes of determining your advisory fee. We deduct and/or bill clients for our fees quarterly in arrears, based upon the market value of the assets on the last business day of the previous quarter. In limited circumstances, GWS also makes certain other fee schedules available to clients, including tiered, set rate, and flat dollar arrangements. Related accounts are grouped for fee billing breakpoint purposes, a process known as “householding.” GWS bills accounts on accrued income including interest and dividends. Our financial planning and consulting fees are negotiable, but generally range from $500 and $10,000 on a fixed fee basis subject to the terms of a separate agreement. Our annual fee is prorated and paid quarterly, in arrears, based upon the market value of the assets on the last business day of the previous quarter (rounded to the nearest dollar), which fee shall be adjusted for capital flows (i.e., contributions or withdrawals) on any single market day in excess of $1,000.00. For more detailed information about our investment advisory and other fees and expenses, please see Item

Your account will be held with a qualified custodian. You will be responsible for the fees and expenses charged by qualified custodians and imposed by broker dealers according to their fee schedules. Those fees and expenses include but are not limited to certain transaction charges, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees, taxes and costs related to maintaining an account. If your assets are invested in mutual funds, ETFs, or other registered and unregistered investment companies, you will bear your pro rata share of the investment management fees and other fees of the funds, which are in addition to the fees you pay us. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus or other offering documents. If your assets are allocated to unaffiliated independent investment managers/sub-advisers you will incur a separate and additional charge for their services. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

For more detailed information about our fees and costs related to our management of your account, please see Item 5 in our Form ADV Part 2A.

Conversation Starters:

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $2,000,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means:

* We may recommend that you engage a particular custodian from whom we receive support services. This presents a conflict of interest, because our receipt of their support makes us more inclined to continue using and recommending them.

* We may recommend rollovers out of employer-sponsored retirement plans and into Individual Retirement Accounts that we manage for an asset-based fee. If we do not currently manage your account held with your employer's plan, this will increase our compensation.

Conversation Starters:

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

For more detailed information about our conflicts of interest, please review Items 4, 8, 11, and 12 of our Form ADV Part 2A.

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are generally compensated on a salary basis and are eligible to receive additional discretionary income that can be but is not necessarily based on the acquisition of new clients and their growth of assets. Others are equity owners of the firm, who stand to receive a share of the firm's quarterly income. These structures present conflicts of interest, because they can incentivize our financial professionals to recommend that you place additional assets under our management. We mitigate that conflict by adhering to our fiduciary duty when making investment recommendations, so that we make recommendations in conformity with each client's investment strategy and objectives. You should discuss your financial professional's compensation directly with your financial professional.

Item 4 – Disciplinary History

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No. We encourage you to visit www.Investor.gov/CRS to research our firm and our financial professionals.

Conversation Starters:

As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? If so, for what type of conduct?

Item 4 Advisory Business

- A. Glassman Wealth Services, LLC (“GWS”) is a limited liability company formed in the Commonwealth of Virginia in 2009. GWS became registered as an Investment Adviser Firm with the Securities and Exchange Commission on September 17, 2009. GWS is principally owned by Barry Glassman, who is also GWS’ Chief Compliance Officer, and owned in part by Travis Russell, Lindsay Shetterly, and Eric Dunner.
- B. As discussed below, GWS offers to its clients (individuals, high net-worth individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, charitable organizations, etc.) investment advisory services, financial planning consulting services, and retirement plan consulting services.

INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES

GWS provides discretionary investment advisory services on a fee basis as discussed at Item 5 below. Before engaging GWS to provide investment advisory services, clients are required to enter into an Investment Advisory Agreement with GWS setting forth the terms and conditions of the engagement (including termination), describing the scope of the services to be provided, and the fee that is due from the client. To commence the investment advisory process, GWS will ascertain each client’s investment objective(s) and then allocate the client’s assets consistent with the client’s designated investment objective(s). Once allocated, GWS provides ongoing supervision of the account(s). GWS’ annual investment advisory fee shall generally (exceptions can occur-see below) include investment advisory services, and, to the extent specifically requested by the client, financial planning and consulting services. In the event that the client requires extraordinary planning and/or consultation services (to be determined in the sole discretion of GWS), GWS may determine to charge for such additional services, the dollar amount of which shall be set forth in a separate written notice to the client. GWS only offers advice with respect to limited types of products and does not offer advice on individual securities. Furthermore, GWS generally does not bill on certain types of 529 plans and donor advised funds, with exceptions for larger managed accounts. GWS bills accounts on accrued income including interest and dividends.

FINANCIAL PLANNING AND CONSULTING SERVICES (STAND-ALONE)

GWS may also provide financial planning and related consulting services regarding matters such as tax and estate planning, insurance, etc. on a stand-alone basis per the terms and conditions of a separate written agreement and fee, the fee for which shall generally be based upon the individual providing the service and the scope of the services to be provided. Prior to engaging GWS to provide planning or consulting services, clients are generally required to enter into a Financial Planning and Consulting Agreement with GWS setting forth the terms and conditions of the engagement (including termination), describing the scope of the services to be provided, and the portion of the fee that is due from the client prior to GWS commencing services.

RETIREMENT PLAN SERVICES

- Trustee Directed Plans. GWS may be engaged to provide discretionary investment advisory services to ERISA retirement plans, whereby the Firm shall manage Plan assets consistent with the investment objective designated by the Plan trustees. In such engagements, GWS will serve as an investment fiduciary as that term is defined under The Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (“ERISA”). GWS will generally provide services on an “assets under management” fee basis per the terms and conditions of an Investment Advisory Agreement between the Plan and the Firm.

- Participant Directed Retirement Plans. GWS may also provide investment advisory and consulting services to participant directed retirement plans per the terms and conditions of a Retirement Plan Services Agreement between GWS and the plan. For such engagements, GWS shall assist the Plan sponsor with the selection of an investment platform from which Plan participants shall make their respective investment choices (which may include investment strategies devised and managed by GWS), and, to the extent engaged to do so, may also provide corresponding education to assist the participants with their decision-making process.
- Client Retirement Plan Assets. If requested to do so, GWS shall provide investment advisory services relative to 401(k) plan assets maintained by the client in conjunction with the retirement plan established by the client's employer. In such event, GWS shall allocate (or recommend that the client allocate) the retirement account assets among the investment options available on the 401(k) platform. GWS' ability shall be limited to the allocation of the assets among the investment alternatives available through the plan. GWS will not receive any communications from the plan sponsor or custodian, and it shall remain the client's exclusive obligation to notify GWS of any changes in investment alternatives, restrictions, etc. pertaining to the retirement account. Unless expressly indicated by the GWS to the contrary, in writing, the client's 401(k) plan assets shall be included as assets under management for purposes of GWS calculating its advisory fee.

MISCELLANEOUS

Limitations of Planning and Non-Investment Consulting/Implementation Services. To the extent requested by the client, GWS will generally provide financial planning and related consulting services regarding matters such as tax and estate planning, insurance, etc. GWS will generally provide such consulting services inclusive of its advisory fee set forth at Item 5 below (exceptions could occur based upon assets under management, extraordinary matters, special projects, stand-alone planning engagements, etc. for which Firm may charge a separate or additional fee). Please Note. GWS believes that it is important for the client to address financial planning issues on an ongoing basis. GWS' advisory fee, as set forth at Item 5 below, will remain the same regardless of whether or not the client determines to address financial planning issues with GWS. Please Also Note: GWS does not serve as an attorney, accountant, or insurance agent, and no portion of our services should be construed as same. Accordingly, GWS does not prepare legal documents, prepare tax returns, or sell insurance products. To the extent requested by a client, we may recommend the services of other professionals for non-investment implementation purpose (i.e., attorneys, accountants, insurance, etc.). The client is not under any obligation to engage any such professional(s). The client retains absolute discretion over all such implementation decisions and is free to accept or reject any recommendation from GWS and/or its representatives. If the client engages any professional (i.e., attorney, accountant, insurance agent, etc.), recommended or otherwise, and a dispute arises thereafter relative to such engagement, the client agrees to seek recourse exclusively from the engaged professional. At all times, the engaged licensed professional[s] (i.e., attorney, accountant, insurance agent, etc.), and not GWS, shall be responsible for the quality and competency of the services provided.

Custodian Charges-Additional Fees. As discussed below at Item 12 below, when requested to recommend a broker-dealer/custodian for client accounts, GWS generally recommends that Schwab or Fidelity serve as the broker-dealer/custodian for client investment management assets. Broker-dealers such as Schwab and Fidelity charge brokerage commissions, transaction, and/or other type fees for effecting certain types of securities transactions (i.e., including transaction fees for certain mutual funds, and mark-ups and mark-downs charged for fixed income transactions, etc.). The types of securities for which transaction fees, commissions, and/or other type fees (as well as the amount of those fees) shall differ depending upon the broker-dealer/custodian. While certain custodians, including Schwab and Fidelity, generally (with exceptions) do not currently charge fees on individual equity transactions (including ETFs), others do. Please Note: there can be no assurance that Schwab or Fidelity will not change its transaction fee pricing in the future. Please Also Note: Schwab and Fidelity may also assess fees to clients who elect to receive trade confirmations and account statements by regular mail rather than electronically. ANY QUESTIONS: GWS' Chief Compliance Officer, Barry Glassman, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding the above.

Unaffiliated Private Investment Funds. GWS may also provide investment advice regarding unaffiliated private investment funds. In particular, GWS may recommend that certain qualified clients consider an investment in unaffiliated private investment funds on a non-discretionary basis. GWS' role relative to the private investment funds will be limited to its initial and ongoing due diligence and investment monitoring services. If a client determines to become a private fund investor, the amount of assets invested in any fund will be included as part of "assets under management" for purposes of GWS calculating its investment advisory fee. GWS' clients are under absolutely no obligation to consider or make an investment in any private investment fund.

Private Fund Risk Factors. Private investment funds generally involve various risk factors, including, but not limited to, potential for complete loss of principal, liquidity constraints and lack of transparency, a complete discussion of which is set forth in each fund's offering documents, which will be provided to each client for review and consideration. Unlike liquid investments that a client may maintain, private investment funds do not provide daily liquidity or pricing. Each prospective client investor will be required to complete a Subscription Agreement, pursuant to which the client will establish that he/she is qualified for investment in the fund, and acknowledges and accepts the various risk factors that are associated with such an investment.

Private Fund Valuation. In the event that GWS references private investment funds owned by the client on any supplemental account reports prepared by GWS, the value(s) for all private investment funds owned by the client will reflect the most recent valuation calculated by GWS using the following formula: Current Value equals Prior Statement Value plus Contributions Since Prior Statement minus Withdrawals Since Prior Statement. The Current Value could be significantly more or less than original purchase price or the fair market value of the fund. The client's advisory fee will be based upon reflected fund values.

Retirement Plan Rollovers – Potential for Conflict of Interest. A client or prospective client leaving an employer typically has four options regarding an existing retirement plan (and may engage in a combination of these options): (i) leave the money in the former employer's plan, if permitted, (ii) roll over the assets to the new employer's plan, if one is available and rollovers are permitted, (iii) roll over to an Individual Retirement Account ("IRA"), or (iv) cash out the account value (which could, depending upon the client's age, result in adverse tax consequences). If GWS recommends that a client roll over their retirement plan assets into an account to be managed by GWS, such a recommendation creates a conflict of interest if GWS will earn new (or increase its current) compensation as a result of the rollover. If GWS provides a recommendation as to whether a client should engage in a rollover or not (whether it is from an employer's plan or an existing IRA), GWS is acting as a fiduciary within the meaning of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act and/or the Internal Revenue Code, as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts. No client is under any obligation to roll over retirement plan assets to an account managed by GWS, whether it is from an employer's plan or an existing IRA. GWS' Chief Compliance Officer, Barry Glassman, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding the potential for conflict of interest presented by such rollover recommendation.

Portfolio Activity. GWS has a fiduciary duty to provide services consistent with the client's best interest. GWS will review client portfolios on an ongoing basis to determine if any changes are necessary based upon various factors, including, but not limited to, investment performance, market conditions, fund manager tenure, style drift, account additions/withdrawals, and/or a change in the client's investment objective. Based upon these factors, there may be extended periods of time when GWS determines that changes to a client's portfolio are neither necessary, nor prudent. Clients remain subject to the fees described in Item 5 below during periods of account inactivity. Of course, as indicated below, there can be no assurance that investment decisions made by GWS will be profitable or equal any specific performance level(s).

Cash Positions. GWS continues to treat cash as an asset class. As such, unless determined to the contrary by GWS, all cash positions (money markets, etc.) shall continue to be included as part of assets under management for purposes of calculating GWS' advisory fee. At any specific point in time, depending upon perceived or anticipated market conditions/events (there being no guarantee that such anticipated market conditions/events will occur), GWS may maintain cash positions for defensive purposes. In addition, while assets are maintained in cash, such amounts could miss market advances. Depending upon current yields, at any point in time, GWS' advisory fee could exceed the interest paid by the client's money market fund. ANY QUESTIONS: GWS' Chief Compliance Officer, Barry Glassman, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective may have regarding the above fee billing practice.

Cash Sweep Accounts. Certain account custodians can require that cash proceeds from account transactions or new deposits, be swept to and/or initially maintained in a specific custodian designated sweep account. The yield on the sweep account will generally be lower than those available for other money market accounts. When this occurs, to help mitigate the corresponding yield dispersion, GWS shall (usually within 30 days thereafter) generally (with exceptions) purchase a higher yielding money market fund (or other type security) available on the custodian's platform, unless GWS reasonably anticipates that it will utilize the cash proceeds during the subsequent 30-day period to purchase additional investments for the client's account. Exceptions and/or modifications can and will occur with respect to all or a portion of the cash balances for various reasons, including, but not limited to the amount of dispersion between the sweep account and a money market fund, the size of the cash balance, an indication from the client of an imminent need for such cash, or the client has a demonstrated history of writing checks from the account. Please Note: The above does not apply to the cash component maintained within a GWS actively managed investment strategy (the cash balances for which shall generally remain in the custodian designated cash sweep account), an indication from the client of a need for access to such cash, assets allocated to an unaffiliated investment manager, and cash balances maintained for fee billing purposes. Please Also Note: The client shall remain exclusively responsible for yield dispersion/cash balance decisions and corresponding transactions for cash balances maintained in any GWS unmanaged accounts. ANY QUESTIONS: GWS' Chief Compliance Officer, Barry Glassman, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding the above.

Use of Mutual Funds and Exchange Traded Funds. Most mutual funds and exchange traded funds are available directly to the public. Thus, a prospective client can obtain many of the funds that may be utilized by GWS independent of engaging GWS as an investment advisor. However, if a prospective client determines to do so, he/she will not receive GWS' initial and ongoing investment advisory services. The mutual funds and exchange traded funds utilized by GWS are generally available directly to the public. Thus, a client can generally obtain the funds recommended and/or utilized by GWS independent of engaging GWS as an investment advisor. However, if a prospective client does so, then they will not receive GWS' initial and ongoing investment advisory services.

Use of DFA Mutual Funds. GWS also uses mutual funds advised by Dimensional Fund Advisors (“DFA”). DFA funds are generally only available through registered investment advisers approved by DFA. If a client terminates GWS’ services, restrictions regarding additional purchases of, or reallocation among other DFA funds, can apply. In addition to GWS’ investment advisory fee described below, and transaction and/or custodial fees discussed above, clients will also incur, relative to all mutual fund and exchange traded fund purchases, charges imposed at the fund level (e.g., management fees and other fund expenses).

Interval Funds/Risks and Limitations. Where appropriate, GWS may utilize interval funds. An interval fund is a non-traditional type of closed-end mutual fund that periodically offers to buy back a percentage of outstanding shares from shareholders. Investments in an interval fund involve additional risk, including lack of liquidity and restrictions on withdrawals. During any time periods outside of the specified repurchase offer window(s), investors will be unable to sell their shares of the interval fund. There is no assurance that an investor will be able to tender shares when or in the amount desired. There can also be situations where an interval fund has a limited amount of capacity to repurchase shares, and may not be able to fulfill all purchase orders. In addition, the eventual sale price for the interval fund could be less than the interval fund value on the date that the sale was requested. While an interval fund periodically offers to repurchase a portion of its securities, there is no guarantee that investors may sell their shares at any given time or in the desired amount. As interval funds can expose investors to liquidity risk, investors should consider interval fund shares to be an illiquid investment. Typically, the interval funds are not listed on any securities exchange and are not publicly traded. Thus, there is no secondary market for the fund’s shares. Because these types of investments involve certain additional risk, these funds will only be utilized when consistent with a client’s investment objectives, individual situation, suitability, tolerance for risk and liquidity needs. Investment should be avoided where an investor has a short-term investing horizon and/or cannot bear the loss of some, or all, of the investment. There can be no assurance that an interval fund investment will prove profitable or successful. Rather, like any type of investment, an interval fund, at any specific point in time, or over any specific time-period, can suffer losses, including the potential for substantial losses. In light of these enhanced risks, a client may direct GWS, in writing, not to purchase interval funds for the client’s account.

Estate Planning Services (Vanilla). As part of the financial planning process, GWS makes available to its clients the opportunity to review, consider and/or create various types of basic estate planning documents (i.e., wills, trusts, etc.) in conjunction with the estate planning software platform provided by Vanilla (www.justvanilla.com). Vanilla and GWS are separate unaffiliated businesses. All documents are provided utilizing Vanilla’s estate planning platform. GWS does not charge an additional fee to its clients to utilize Vanilla. Please Note: GWS is not a law firm, and no portion of its services, including those provided in conjunction with Vanilla, should be considered as legal advice, or the substitute for the client’s engagement of legal counsel. Please Also Note: For clients whose situation and needs require more sophisticated and customized estate planning advice and/or documents, the engagement of legal counsel should be considered. No client is under any obligation to utilize Vanilla.

Socially Responsible Investing Limitations. Socially Responsible Investing involves the incorporation of Environmental, Social and Governance (“ESG”) considerations into the investment due diligence process. ESG investing incorporates a set of criteria/factors used in evaluating potential investments: Environmental (i.e., considers how a company safeguards the environment); Social (i.e., the manner in which a company manages relationships with its employees, customers, and the communities in which it operates); and Governance (i.e., company management considerations). The number of companies that meet an acceptable ESG mandate can be limited when compared to those that do not, and could underperform broad market indices. Investors must accept these limitations, including potential for underperformance. Correspondingly, the number of ESG mutual funds and exchange-traded funds are limited when compared to those that do not maintain such a mandate. As with any type of investment (including any investment and/or investment strategies recommended and/or undertaken by GWS), there can be no assurance that investment in ESG securities or funds will be profitable or prove successful. GWS does not maintain or advocate an ESG investment strategy, but will seek to employ ESG if expressly directed by a client to do so. If implemented, GWS shall rely upon the assessments undertaken by the unaffiliated mutual fund, exchange traded fund or separate account portfolio manager to determine that the fund’s or portfolio’s underlying company securities meet a socially responsible mandate.

Bitcoin, Cryptocurrency, and Digital Assets. For clients who want exposure to Bitcoin, cryptocurrencies, or digital assets, GWS will advise the client to consider a potential investment in corresponding exchange traded securities, or an allocation to separate account managers and/or private funds that provide cryptocurrency exposure. Bitcoin and cryptocurrencies are digital assets that can be used for various purposes, including transactions, decentralized applications, and speculative investments. Most digital assets use blockchain technology, an advanced cryptographic digital ledger to secure transactions and validate asset ownership. Unlike conventional currencies issued and regulated by monetary authorities, cryptocurrencies generally operate without centralized control, and their value is determined by market supply and demand. While regulatory oversight of digital assets has evolved significantly since their inception, they remain subject to variable regulatory treatment globally, which may impact their risk profile and liquidity. Given that cryptocurrency investments are speculative and subject to extreme price volatility, liquidity constraints, and the potential for total loss of principal, GWS does not exercise discretionary authority to purchase cryptocurrency investments for client accounts. Any investment in cryptocurrencies must be expressly authorized by the client. GWS does not recommend or advocate for the purchase of, or investment in, Bitcoin, cryptocurrencies, or digital assets. Such investments are considered speculative and carry significant risk. Clients who authorize the purchase of a cryptocurrency investment must be prepared for the potential for liquidity constraints, extreme price volatility, regulatory risk, technological risk, security and custody risk, and complete loss of principal.

Independent Managers. GWS may allocate a portion of the client’s investment assets among unaffiliated independent investment managers in accordance with the client’s designated investment objective(s). In such situations, the Independent Manager[s] shall have day-to-day responsibility for the active discretionary management of the allocated assets. GWS shall continue to render investment supervisory services to the client relative to the ongoing monitoring and review of account performance, asset allocation and client investment objectives. Factors that GWS shall consider in recommending Independent Manager[s] include the client’s designated investment objective(s), management style, performance, reputation, financial strength, reporting, pricing, and research. Please Note. The investment management fee charged by the Independent Manager[s] is separate from, and in addition to, GWS’ investment advisory fee disclosed at Item 5 below. ANY QUESTIONS: GWS’ Chief Compliance Officer, Barry Glassman, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding the allocation of account assets to an Independent Manager(s), including the specific additional fee to be charged by such Independent Manager(s).

Borrowing Against Assets/Risks. A client who has a need to borrow money could determine to do so by using:

- Margin-The account custodian or broker-dealer lends money to the client. The custodian charges the client interest for the right to borrow money, and uses the assets in the client's brokerage account as collateral or
- Pledged Assets Loan- In consideration for a lender (i.e., a bank, etc.) to make a loan to the client, the client pledges its investment assets held at the account custodian as collateral.

These above-described collateralized loans are generally utilized because they typically provide more favorable interest rates than standard commercial loans. These types of collateralized loans can assist with a pending home purchase, permit the retirement of more expensive debt, or enable borrowing in lieu of liquidating existing account positions and incurring capital gains taxes. However, such loans are not without potential material risk to the client's investment assets. The lender (i.e., custodian, bank, etc.) will have recourse against the client's investment assets in the event of loan default or if the assets fall below a certain level. For this reason, GWS does not recommend such borrowing unless it is for specific short-term purposes (i.e., a bridge loan to purchase a new residence). GWS does not recommend such borrowing for investment purposes (i.e., to invest borrowed funds in the market). Regardless, if the client was to determine to utilize margin or a pledged assets loan, the following economic benefits would inure to GWS:

- by taking the loan rather than liquidating assets in the client's account, GWS continues to earn a fee on such account assets; and,
- if the client invests any portion of the loan proceeds in an account to be managed by GWS, GWS will receive an advisory fee on the invested amount; and,
- if GWS' advisory fee is based upon the higher margined account value, GWS will earn a correspondingly higher advisory fee. This could provide GWS with a disincentive to encourage the client to discontinue the use of margin.

Please Note: The Client must accept the above risks and potential corresponding consequences associated with the use of margin or a pledged assets loans.

Accrued Interest/Dividends. The market value reflected on periodic account statements issued by the account custodian may differ from the value used by GWS for its advisory fee billing process. GWS includes the accrued value of certain month or quarter-end interest and/or dividend payments when calculating client advisory fees, which amounts may not yet be reflected on the custodian statement as having been received by the account.

ByAllAccounts and Canoe. GWS, in conjunction with the services provided by ByAllAccounts, Inc., and Canoe may also provide periodic comprehensive reporting and financial planning services, which can incorporate all of the client's investment assets including those investment assets that are not part of the assets managed by GWS (the "Excluded Assets"). The client and/or the client's other advisors that maintain trading authority, and not GWS, shall be exclusively responsible for the investment performance of the Excluded Assets. Unless otherwise specifically agreed to, in writing, GWS' service relative to the Excluded Assets is limited to reporting only. The sole exception to the above shall be if GWS is specifically engaged to monitor and/or allocate the assets within the client's 401(k) account maintained away at the custodian directed by the client's employer. As such, except with respect to the client's 401(k) account (if applicable), GWS does not maintain any trading authority for the Excluded Assets. Rather, the client and/or the client's designated other investment professional(s) maintain supervision, monitoring and trading authority for the Excluded Assets. If GWS were asked to make a recommendation as to any Excluded Assets, the client is under absolutely no obligation to accept the recommendation, and GWS shall not be responsible for any implementation error (timing, trading, etc.) relative to the Excluded Assets. In the event the client desires that GWS provide investment management services for the Excluded Assets, the client may engage GWS to do so pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Investment Advisory Agreement between GWS and the client. In addition, GWS shall not be held responsible for any adverse results a client may experience if the client engages in financial planning or other functions available on the MoneyGuidePro platform without GWS' assistance or oversight.

Other Assets. A client may:

- hold securities that were purchased at the request of the client or acquired prior to the client's engagement of GWS. Generally, with potential exceptions, GWS does not/would not recommend nor follow such securities, and absent mitigating tax consequences or client direction to the contrary, would prefer to liquidate such securities. Please Note: If/when liquidated, it should not be assumed that the replacement securities purchased by GWS will outperform the liquidated positions. To the contrary, different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk, and there can be no assurance that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy (including the investments and/or investment strategies recommended or undertaken by GWS) will be profitable or equal any specific performance level(s). In addition, there may be other securities and/or accounts owned by the client for which GWS does not maintain custodian access and/or trading authority; and,
- hold other securities and/or own accounts for which GWS does not maintain custodian access and/or trading authority.

Corresponding Services/Fees: When agreed to by GWS, GWS shall: (1) remain available to discuss these securities/accounts on an ongoing basis at the request of the client; (2) monitor these securities/accounts on a regular basis, including, where applicable, rebalancing with client consent; (3) shall generally consider these securities as part of the client's overall asset allocation; (4) report on such securities/accounts as part of regular reports that may be provided by GWS; and, (5) include the market value of all such securities for purposes of calculating advisory fee.

Cybersecurity Risk. The information technology systems and networks that GWS and its third-party service providers use to provide services to GWS's clients employ various controls that are designed to prevent cybersecurity incidents stemming from intentional or unintentional actions that could cause significant interruptions in GWS's operations and/or result in the unauthorized acquisition or use of clients' confidential or non-public personal information. Clients and GWS are nonetheless subject to the risk of cybersecurity incidents that could ultimately cause them to incur financial losses and/or other adverse consequences. Although GWS has established processes to reduce the risk of cybersecurity incidents, there is no guarantee that these efforts will always be successful, especially considering that GWS does not control the cybersecurity measures and policies employed by third-party service providers, issuers of securities, broker-dealers, qualified custodians, governmental and other regulatory authorities, exchanges and other financial market operators and providers.

Client Privacy and Confidentiality. GWS maintains policies and procedures designed to help protect the confidentiality and security of client nonpublic personal information (“NPPI”). NPPI includes, but is not limited to, social security numbers, credit or debit card numbers, state identification card numbers, driver’s license number and account numbers. GWS maintains administrative, technical, and physical safeguards designed to protect such information from unauthorized access, use, loss, or destruction. These safeguards include controls relating to data access, information security, and incident response, and are reviewed to address changes in risk and business. Client information may be disclosed in response to regulatory requests, legal obligations, or as otherwise permitted by law, and any such disclosure is made in accordance with applicable privacy and confidentiality requirements. GWS may engage non-affiliated service providers in connection with providing advisory services, and such providers may have access to client NPPI, as necessary, to perform their functions. These service providers represent to GWS that they maintain safeguards designed to protect client information from unauthorized access or use and that they will provide notice to GWS in the event of a cybersecurity incident involving client information. While GWS maintains policies and procedures designed to protect client information, such measures cannot eliminate all risk. Upon becoming aware of a data breach involving a client’s NPPI, GWS will notify clients of such breach as may be required by applicable state and federal laws.

Artificial Intelligence. GWS may use certain Artificial Intelligence (“AI”) tools in connection with its investment advisory services. GWS has adopted an AI Policy that governs the appropriate use of AI tools to ensure that GWS and its employees abide by their fiduciary duty and comply with all applicable regulations. AI tools are not used by GWS as a substitute for professional judgment by GWS or its employees, and all AI generated output is reviewed by GWS for accuracy. All investment decisions and recommendations are made and approved by GWS. The use of AI tools does not guarantee the accuracy of analyses or the success of any investment strategy. Clients should not assume that reliance on AI tools results in better performance or reduces risk. AI tools involve limitations and risks that GWS monitors and manages. These risks include, but are not limited to, data security concerns, potential inaccuracies, and possible algorithmic biases. To mitigate these risks, GWS has implemented controls such as pre-approval requirements for AI tools, restrictions on providing nonpublic personal information to public AI systems, vendor due diligence, review of AI-generated materials, and employee training on appropriate AI usage.

Client Obligations. In performing its services, GWS will not be required to verify any information received from the client or from the client’s other designated professionals, and is expressly authorized to rely thereon. Moreover, each client is advised that it remains their responsibility to promptly notify GWS if there is ever any change in their financial situation or investment objective(s) for the purpose of reviewing, evaluating, or revising GWS’ previous recommendations and/or services.

Disclosure Brochure. A copy of the GWS’ written Privacy Notice, Disclosure Brochure as set forth on Part 2 of Form ADV and Form CRS (Client Relationship Summary) shall be provided to each client prior to, or contemporaneously with, the execution of the Investment Advisory Agreement or Financial Planning and Consulting Agreement.

Investment Risk. Different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk, and it should not be assumed that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy (including the investments and/or investment strategies recommended or undertaken by GWS) will be profitable or equal any specific performance level(s).

- C. GWS will provide investment advisory services specific to the needs of each client. Before providing investment advisory services, an investment adviser representative will ascertain each client’s investment objective(s). Thereafter, GWS will allocate and/or recommend that the client allocate investment assets consistent with the designated investment objective(s). The client may, at any time, impose reasonable restrictions, in writing, on GWS’ services.
- D. GWS does not offer a wrap-fee program for its investment advisory services.
- E. As of December 31, 2025, GWS had $2,404,472,894 in assets under management on a discretionary basis and $152,380,537 in assets under management on a non-discretionary basis for a total of $2,556,853,431 in assets under management.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

A. INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES

If a client determines to engage GWS to provide discretionary investment advisory services on a fee-only basis, GWS’ negotiable annual investment advisory fee will be based upon a percentage (%) of the market value and type of assets placed under GWS’ management. The annual investment advisory fee will generally be:

	ASSETS VALUE	BASE FEE
Initial	up to $2,000,000	1.00%
Then the next $3 million from	$2,000,001 - $5,000,000	0.75%
Then the next $5 million from	$5,000,001 - $10,000,000	0.50%
Then the next $15 million from	$10,000,001 - $25,000,000	0.25%
	Above $25,000,000	negotiable

GWS’ fee is subject to the terms and conditions of the Investment Advisory Agreement, depending upon various factors including but not limited to: the amount of assets to be managed; account composition; the scope and complexity of the engagement; the anticipated number of meetings and servicing needs; related accounts; future earning capacity; anticipated future additional assets; the professional(s) rendering the service(s); competition, and negotiations with the client. As a result of these factors, similarly situated clients could pay different fees (see Fee Dispersion below). Moreover, the services to be provided by GWS to any particular client could be available from other advisers at lower fees. In limited circumstances, GWS also makes certain other fee schedules available to clients, including tiered, set rate, and flat dollar arrangements. All clients and prospective clients should be guided accordingly. Related accounts are grouped for fee billing breakpoint purposes, a process known as “householding.”

Please Also Note: GWS also generally requires a $2,000,000 minimum asset level and a $20,000 minimum annual fee for investment advisory services. Please refer to Item 7 below for more information in this respect. In the event that the client is subject to an annual minimum fee, the client could pay a higher percentage fee than referenced above. GWS' minimum fee can be waived, reduced, or increased.

Fee Dispersion. GWS, in its discretion, may charge a lesser or higher investment advisory fee, charge a flat fee, wave its minimum fee, waive its fee entirely, exclude assets from billing, or charge a fee on a different interval, based upon certain criteria (i.e. anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amount of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, complexity of the engagement, anticipated services to be rendered, grandfathered fee schedules, employees and family members, courtesy accounts, competition, negotiations with client, etc.). GWS generally does not bill on certain types of 529 plans and donor advised funds, with exceptions for larger managed accounts. Please Note: As result of the above, similarly situated clients could pay different fees. In addition, similar advisory services may be available from other investment advisers for similar or lower fees. ANY QUESTIONS: GWS' Chief Compliance Officer, Barry Glassman, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding advisory fees.

GWS' Chief Compliance Officer, Barry Glassman, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding its fees, and minimum asset levels and fees.

FINANCIAL PLANNING AND CONSULTING SERVICES

GWS may determine to provide financial planning and/or consulting services (including investment and non-investment related matters, including estate planning, insurance planning, etc.) on a stand-alone fee basis. GWS' negotiable financial planning and consulting fees generally range between $500 and $10,000 on a fixed-fee basis subject to the terms and conditions of the Financial Planning and Consulting Agreement, depending upon the level and scope of the service(s) required and the professional(s) rendering the service(s). If the client engages GWS for additional investment advisory services, GWS may offset all or a portion of its fees for those services based upon the amount paid for the financial planning and/or consulting services.

RETIREMENT PLAN CONSULTING SERVICES

If a client determines to engage GWS to provide retirement plan consulting services, the terms and conditions of the engagement will be set forth in a Retirement Plan Services Agreement between GWS and the plan sponsor. GWS charges a negotiable annual fee for retirement plan consulting services, which generally ranges between 0.25% and 1.00% of plan assets, depending on the level and scope of services requested, the professional(s) rendering the service(s), and the size of the plan.

- B. Clients may elect to have GWS' fees deducted from their custodial accounts. The applicable form of Agreement and the custodial/clearing agreement may authorize the custodian to debit the account for the amount of GWS' fees and to directly remit that fee to GWS in compliance with regulatory procedures. In the limited event that GWS bills the client directly, payment is due upon receipt of GWS' invoice. GWS' annual fee shall be prorated and paid quarterly, in arrears, based upon the market value of the Assets on the last business day of the previous quarter (rounded to the nearest dollar), which fee shall be adjusted for capital flows (i.e., contributions or withdrawals) on any single market day in excess of $1,000.00. GWS bills accounts on accrued income including interest and dividends.
- C. As discussed above at Item 4 and below at Item 12, unless the client directs otherwise or an individual client's circumstances require, GWS generally recommends that either Charles Schwab & Co., Inc., an SEC registered broker-dealer, FINRA and SIPC Member ("Schwab") or Fidelity Investments, an SEC registered broker-dealer, FINRA and SIPC Member ("Fidelity") serve as the broker-dealer/custodian for client investment assets. As discussed at Item 4 above, broker-dealers such as Schwab and Fidelity charge transaction fees for executing certain). In addition, clients will also incur, relative to all mutual fund and exchange traded fund (“ETF”) purchases, charges imposed at the fund level (e.g., management fees and other fund expenses). The fees charged by the applicable broker-dealer/custodian, the charges imposed at the fund level, and any fees charged by Independent Managers as referenced above are in addition to GWS’ investment advisory fees referenced in this Item 5. Additionally, with respect to private funds and independent managers, clients will pay management fees at the fund level and to an independent manager in addition to the management fees paid to GWS

- D. GWS’ annual fee shall be prorated and paid quarterly, in arrears, based upon the market value of the Assets on the last business day of the previous quarter (rounded to the nearest dollar), which fee shall be adjusted for capital flows (i.e., contributions or withdrawals) on any single market day in excess of $1,000.00. The applicable form of client Agreement with GWS will continue in effect until terminated by either party in accordance with the terms of such Agreement. Upon termination, GWS will bill or debit the client account for the pro-rated portion of the unpaid fee, based upon the number of days that services were provided during the billing quarter.
- E. Neither GWS, nor its representatives, accepts compensation from the sale of securities or other investment products.

Item 6 Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Neither GWS, nor any supervised person is a party to any performance or incentive-related compensation arrangements with its clients.

Item 7 Types of Clients

GWS’ clients will generally include: individuals, high net-worth individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, and charitable organizations. GWS also generally requires a $2,000,000 minimum asset level and could impose a minimum annual fee for investment advisory services. In the event that the client is subject to an annual minimum fee, the client could pay a higher percentage fee than referenced at Item 5 above

GWS, in its discretion, may charge a lesser or higher investment advisory fee, charge a flat fee, waive its minimum fee, waive its fee entirely, exclude assets from billing, or charge a fee on a different interval, based upon certain criteria (i.e. anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amount of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, complexity of the engagement, anticipated services to be rendered, grandfathered fee schedules, employees and family members, courtesy accounts, competition, negotiations with client, etc.). GWS generally does not bill on certain types of 529 plans and donor advised funds, with exceptions for larger managed accounts. Please Note: As result of the above, similarly situated clients could pay different fees. In addition, similar advisory services may be available from other investment advisers for similar or lower fees. ANY QUESTIONS: GWS’ Chief Compliance Officer, Barry Glassman, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding advisory fees.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. GWS may utilize the following methods of security analysis:

- Fundamental - (analysis performed on historical and present data, with the goal of making financial forecasts); and
- Technical – (analysis performed on historical and present data, focusing on price and trade volume, to forecast the direction of prices).

GWS may utilize the following investment strategies when implementing investment advice given to clients:

- Long Term Purchases (securities held at least a year); and
- Short Term Purchases (securities sold within a year).

Investment Risk. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear, including the loss of principal investment. Past performance may not be indicative of future results. Different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk, and it should not be assumed that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy (including the investments and/or investment strategies recommended or undertaken by GWS) will be profitable or equal any specific performance level(s). Investment strategies such as asset allocation, diversification, or rebalancing do not assure or guarantee better performance and cannot eliminate the risk of investment losses. There is no guarantee that a portfolio employing these or any other strategy will outperform a portfolio that does not engage in such strategies. While asset values may increase and client account values could benefit as a result, it is also possible that asset values may decrease and client account values could suffer a loss.

B. GWS' methods of analysis and investment strategies do not present any significant or unusual risks. However, every method of analysis has its own inherent risks. To perform an accurate market analysis GWS must have access to current/new market information. GWS has no control over the dissemination rate of market information; therefore, unbeknownst to GWS, certain analyses may be compiled with outdated market information, severely limiting the value of GWS' analysis. Furthermore, an accurate market analysis can only produce a forecast of the direction of market values. There can be no assurances that a forecasted change in market value will materialize into actionable and/or profitable investment opportunities.

GWS' primary investment strategies (Long Term Purchases and Short Term Purchases) are fundamental investment strategies. However, every investment strategy has its own inherent risks and limitations. For example, longer-term investment strategies require a longer investment time period to allow for the strategy to potentially develop. Shorter-term investment strategies require a shorter investment time period to potentially develop but, as a result of more frequent trading, may incur higher transactional costs when compared to a longer term investment strategy.

Margin Accounts: Risks. GWS does not recommend the use of margin for investment purposes. A margin account is a brokerage account that allows investors to borrow money to buy securities and/or for other non-investment borrowing purposes. The broker/custodian charges the investor interest for the right to borrow money and uses the securities as collateral. By using borrowed funds, the customer is employing leverage that will magnify both account gains and losses. Please Note: The use of margin can cause significant adverse financial consequences in the event of a market correction. ANY QUESTIONS: Our Chief Compliance Officer, Barry Glassman, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding the use of margin.

- C. GWS primarily allocates client investment assets primarily among open-end no load mutual funds, with the remainder primarily allocated among exchange traded funds (“ETFs”), Independent Manager(s), and private investment funds. In limited circumstances, GWS may recommend the use of options-see Item 8 below. Upon a specific client request, GWS may also allocate client investment assets as an accommodation among individual equity or fixed income securities. Each type of security or investment has its own unique set of risks associated with it. The following provides a short description of some of the underlying risks associated with the types of investments that GWS employs or recommends:

Market Risk. The price of a security may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk may be caused by external factors (such as economic or political factors), but may also be incurred because of a security’s specific underlying investments. Additionally, each security’s price can fluctuate based on market movement, which may or may not be due to the security’s operations or changes in its true value. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events, which are temporarily negative, or temporarily positive.

Unsystematic Risk. Unsystematic risk is the company-specific or industry-specific risk in a portfolio that the investor bears. Unsystematic risk is typically addressed through diversification. However, as indicated above, diversification does not guarantee better performance and cannot eliminate the risk of investment losses.

Value Investment Risk. Value stocks may perform differently from the market as a whole and following a value-oriented investment strategy may cause a portfolio to underperform growth stocks.

Growth Investment Risk. Prices of growth stocks tend to be higher in relation to their companies’ earnings and may be more sensitive to market, political and economic developments than other stocks, making their prices more volatile.

Small Company Risk. Securities of small companies are often less liquid than those of large companies and this could make it difficult to sell a small company security at a desired time or price. As a result, small company stocks may fluctuate relatively more in price. In general, small capitalization companies are more vulnerable than larger companies to adverse business or economic developments and they may have more limited resources.

Commodity Risk. The value of commodity-linked derivative instruments may be affected by changes in overall market movements, commodity index volatility, changes in interest rates, or factors affecting a particular industry or commodity, such as drought, floods, weather, livestock disease, embargoes, tariffs, and international economic, political, and regulatory developments.

Interest Rate Risk. Fixed income securities and fixed income-based securities are subject to interest rate risk because the prices of fixed income securities tend to move in the opposite direction of interest rates. When interest rates rise, fixed income security prices tend to fall. When interest rates fall, fixed income security prices tend to rise. In general, fixed income securities with longer maturities are more sensitive to these price changes.

Inflation Risk. When any type of inflation is present, a dollar at present value will not carry the same purchasing power as a dollar in the future, because that purchasing power erodes at the rate of inflation.

Reinvestment Risk. Future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e., interest rate), which primarily relates to fixed income securities.

Credit Risk. The issuer of a security may be unable to make interest payments and/or repay principal when due. A downgrade to an issuer's credit rating or a perceived change in an issuer's financial strength may affect a security's value and impact performance. Credit risk is considered greater for fixed income securities with ratings below investment grade. Fixed income securities that are below investment grade involve higher credit risk and are considered speculative.

Call Risk. During periods of falling interest rates, a bond issuer will call or repay a higher-yielding bond before its maturity date, forcing the investment to reinvest in bonds with lower interest rates than the original obligations.

Regulatory Risk. Changes in laws and regulations from any government can change the market value of companies subject to such regulations. Certain industries are more susceptible to government regulation. For example, changes in zoning, tax structure or laws may impact the return on investments.

Mutual Fund Risk. Mutual funds are operated by investment companies that raise money from shareholders and invest it in stocks, bonds, and/or other types of securities. Each fund will have a manager that trades the fund's investments in accordance with the fund's investment objective. Mutual funds charge a separate management fee for their services, so the returns on mutual funds are reduced by the costs to manage the funds. While mutual funds generally provide diversification, risks can be significantly increased if the fund is concentrated in a particular sector of the market. Mutual funds come in many varieties. Some invest aggressively for capital appreciation, while others are conservative and are designed to generate income for shareholders. In addition, the client's overall portfolio may be affected by losses of an underlying fund and the level of risk arising from the investment practices of an underlying fund (such as the use of derivatives).

Exchange Traded Fund Risk. ETFs are marketable securities that are designed to track, before fees and expenses, the performance or returns of a relevant index, commodity, bonds or basket of assets, like an index fund. Unlike mutual funds, ETFs trade like common stock on a stock exchange. ETFs experience price changes throughout the day as they are bought and sold. In addition to the general risks of investing, there are specific risks to consider with respect to an investment in ETFs, including, but not limited to: (i) an ETF's shares may trade at a market price that is above or below its net asset value; (ii) the ETF may employ an investment strategy that utilizes high leverage ratios; or (iii) trading of an ETF's shares may be halted if the listing exchange's officials deem such action appropriate, the shares are de-listed from the exchange, or the activation of market-wide "circuit breakers" (which are tied to large decreases in stock prices) halts stock trading generally.

Exchange Traded Note Risk. ETNs are unsecured debt obligation of the issuer, that trade on exchanges and seek a return linked to a market index or other benchmark. Unlike ETFs, ETNs do not buy or hold assets to replicate or approximate the performance of the underlying index. The return on an ETN generally depends on price changes if the ETN is sold before maturing (as with stocks or ETFs) – or on the payment, if any, of a distribution if the ETN is held to maturity (as with some other structured products). An ETN's indicative value is computed by the issuer and is distinct from an ETN's market price, which is the price at which an ETN trades in the secondary market. An ETN's market price can deviate, sometimes significantly, from its indicative value.

Independent Manager Risk. GWS will conduct initial and ongoing due diligence regarding Independent Managers and their respective investment style and process. However, GWS will not have the opportunity to evaluate each specific investment that the Independent Managers will execute on the client's behalf. As a result, the rates of return to clients will primarily depend upon the choice of investments and other investment and management decisions of Independent Managers and returns could be adversely affected by unfavorable performance of such Independent Managers. Further, GWS depends on Independent Managers to develop the appropriate systems and procedures to control operational risks.

Unaffiliated Private Investment Fund Risk. Private investment funds generally involve various risk factors including, but not limited to potential for complete loss of principal, liquidity constraints and lack of transparency. A complete discussion of the risks will be set forth in each fund's offering documents, which will be provided to each client for review and consideration. GWS' role related to the private investment funds is limited to its initial and ongoing due diligence and investment monitoring services. GWS' clients are under absolutely no obligation to consider or make an investment in private investment funds. Unlike liquid investments that a client may own, private investment funds do not provide daily liquidity or pricing. Each prospective client investor will be required to complete a subscription agreement, pursuant to which the client will establish that they qualified for investment in the fund, and that they acknowledge and accept the various risk factors that are associated with such an investment.

Options Strategies. In limited circumstances GWS may engage in options transactions for the purpose of hedging risk and/or generating portfolio income. The use of options transactions as an investment strategy can involve a high level of inherent risk. Option transactions establish a contract between two parties concerning the buying or selling of an asset at a predetermined price during a specific period of time. During the term of the option contract, the buyer of the option gains the right to demand fulfillment by the seller. Fulfillment may take the form of either selling or purchasing a security, depending upon the nature of the option contract. Generally, the purchase or sale of an option contract shall be with the intent of "hedging" a potential market risk in a client's portfolio and/or generating income for a client's portfolio. Please Note: Certain options-related strategies (i.e., straddles, short positions, etc.), may, in and of themselves, produce principal volatility and/or risk. Thus, a client must be willing to accept these enhanced volatility and principal risks associated with such strategies. In light of these enhanced risks, client may direct GWS, in writing, not to employ any or all such strategies for his/her/their/its accounts. Please Also Note: There can be no guarantee that an options strategy will achieve its objective or prove successful. No client is under any obligation to enter into any option transactions. However, if the client does so, he/she must be prepared to accept the potential for unintended or undesired consequences (i.e., losing ownership of the security, incurring capital gains taxes).

Covered Call Writing. Covered call writing is the sale of in-, at-, or out-of-the-money call options against a long security position held in a client portfolio. This type of transaction is intended to generate income. It also serves to create partial downside protection in the event the security position declines in value. Income is received from the proceeds of the option sale. Such income may be reduced or lost to the extent it is determined to buy back the option position before its expiration. There can be no assurance that the security will not be called away by the option buyer, which will result in the client (option writer) to lose ownership in the security and incur potential unintended tax consequences. Covered call strategies are generally better suited for positions with lower price volatility.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

Neither GWS nor its management persons have been the subject of any disciplinary actions.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

- A. Neither GWS, nor its representatives, are registered or have an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer or a registered representative of a broker-dealer.
- B. Neither GWS, nor its representatives, are registered or have an application pending to register, as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, a commodity trading advisor, or a representative of the foregoing.
- C. Neither GWS, nor its representatives, have any relationship or arrangement that is material to its advisory business or to its clients with any related person.
- D. GWS does not receive, directly or indirectly, compensation from investment advisors that it recommends or selects for its clients.

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

- A. GWS maintains an investment policy relative to personal securities transactions. This investment policy is part of GWS' overall Code of Ethics, which serves to establish a standard of business conduct for all of GWS' Representatives that is based upon fundamental principles of openness, integrity, honesty and trust, a copy of which is available upon request.

In accordance with Section 204A of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, GWS also maintains and enforces written policies reasonably designed to prevent the misuse of material non-public information by GWS or any person associated with GWS.

- B. Neither GWS nor any related person of GWS recommends, buys, or sells for client accounts, securities in which GWS or any related person of GWS has a material financial interest.
- C. GWS and/or representatives of GWS may buy or sell securities that are also recommended to clients. This practice may create a situation where GWS and/or representatives of GWS are in a position to materially benefit from the sale or purchase of those securities. Therefore, this situation presents a conflict of interest. Practices such as "scalping" (i.e., a practice whereby the owner of shares of a security recommends that security for investment and then immediately sells it at a profit upon the rise in the market price which follows the recommendation) could take place if GWS did not have adequate policies in place to detect such activities. In addition, this requirement can help detect insider trading, "front-running" (i.e., personal trades executed before those of GWS' clients) and other potentially abusive practices.

GWS has a personal securities transaction policy in place to monitor the personal securities transactions and securities holdings of each of GWS' "Access Persons." GWS' personal securities transaction policy requires that an Access Person of GWS must provide the Chief Compliance Officer or a designee with a written report of their current securities holdings within ten (10) days after becoming an Access Person. Additionally, each Access Person must provide the Chief Compliance Officer or a designee with a written report of the Access Person's current securities holdings at least once each twelve (12) month period thereafter on a date GWS selects.

- D. GWS and/or representatives of GWS may buy or sell securities, at or around the same time as those securities are recommended to clients. This practice creates a situation where GWS and/or representatives of GWS are in a position to materially benefit from the sale or purchase of those securities. Therefore, this situation presents a conflict of interest. As indicated above in Item 11.C, GWS has a personal securities transaction policy in place to monitor the personal securities transaction and securities holdings of each of GWS' Access Persons.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

- A. In the event that the client requests that GWS recommend a broker-dealer/custodian for execution and/or custodial services (exclusive of those clients that may direct GWS to use a specific broker-dealer/custodian), GWS generally recommends that investment management accounts be maintained at Schwab or Fidelity. Before engaging GWS to provide investment management services, the client will be required to enter into a formal Investment Advisory Agreement with GWS setting forth the terms and conditions under which GWS will manage the client's assets, and a separate custodial/clearing agreement with each designated broker-dealer/custodian.

Factors that GWS considers in recommending Schwab, Fidelity (or any other broker-dealer/custodian to clients) include historical relationship with GWS, financial strength, reputation, execution capabilities, pricing, research, and service. Although the commissions and/or transaction fees paid by GWS' clients will comply with GWS' duty to seek best execution, a client may pay a commission that is higher than another qualified broker-dealer might charge to effect the same transaction where GWS determines, in good faith, that the commission/transaction fee is reasonable. In seeking best execution, the determinative factor is not the lowest possible cost, but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of a broker-dealer's services, including the value of research provided, execution capability, commission rates, and responsiveness. Accordingly, although GWS will seek competitive rates, it may not necessarily obtain the lowest possible commission rates for client account transactions. The brokerage commissions or transaction fees charged by the designated broker-dealer/custodian are exclusive of, and in addition to, GWS' investment management fee. GWS' best price execution responsibility is qualified if securities that it purchases for client accounts are mutual funds that trade at net asset value as determined at the daily market close.

1. Non-Soft Dollar Research and Additional Benefits

Although not a material consideration when determining whether to recommend that a client utilize the services of a particular broker-dealer/custodian, GWS receives from Schwab and Fidelity (or could receive from other broker-dealer/custodians, unaffiliated investment managers, vendors, investment platforms, and/or product/fund sponsors) without cost (and/or at a discount) support services and/or products, certain of which assist GWS to better monitor and service client accounts maintained at such institutions. The support services that GWS receives can include: investment-related research, pricing information and market data, software and other technology that provide access to client account data, compliance and/or practice management-related publications, discounted or free consulting services, discounted and/or free travel and attendance at conferences, meetings, and other educational and/or social events (which can also include transportation and lodging), marketing support, computer hardware and/or software and/or other products used by GWS in furtherance of its investment advisory business operations. As referenced above, certain of the support services and/or products that GWS can receive may assist GWS in managing and administering client accounts. Others do not directly provide such assistance, but rather assist GWS to manage and further develop its business enterprise. The receipt of these support services and products presents a conflict of interest, because GWS has the incentive to recommend that clients utilize Schwab or Fidelity as a broker-dealer/custodian based upon its interest in continuing to receive the above-described support services and products, rather than based on a client's particular need. However, GWS' clients do not pay more for investment transactions effected and/or assets maintained at Schwab and Fidelity as a result of these arrangements. There is no corresponding commitment made by GWS to Schwab, Fidelity, or any other entity to invest any specific amount or percentage of client assets in any specific mutual funds, securities or other investment products as a result of the above arrangements. GWS' Chief Compliance Officer, Barry Glassman, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding the above arrangements and the conflicts of interest presented.

2. GWS does not receive referrals from broker-dealers.
3. Directed Brokerage. GWS does not generally accept directed brokerage arrangements (when a client requires that account transactions be effected through a specific broker-dealer). In such client directed arrangements, the client will negotiate terms and arrangements for their account with that broker-dealer, and GWS will not seek better execution services or prices from other broker-dealers or be able to "batch" the client's transactions for execution through other broker-dealers with orders for other accounts managed by GWS. As a result, a client may pay higher commissions or other transaction costs or greater spreads, or receive less favorable net prices, on transactions for the account than would otherwise be the case.

In the event that the client directs GWS to effect securities transactions for the client's accounts through a specific broker-dealer, the client correspondingly acknowledges that such direction may cause the accounts to incur higher commissions or transaction costs than the accounts would otherwise incur had the client determined to effect account transactions through alternative clearing arrangements that may be available through GWS. Higher transaction costs adversely impact account performance.: Transactions for directed accounts will generally be executed following the execution of portfolio transactions for non-directed accounts. GWS' Chief Compliance Officer, Barry Glassman, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding the above arrangement.

- B. To the extent that GWS provides investment management services to its clients, the transactions for each client account generally will be effected independently, unless GWS decides to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. GWS may (but is not obligated to) combine or "bunch" such orders to obtain best execution, to negotiate more favorable commission rates or to allocate equitably among GWS' clients differences in prices and commissions or other transaction costs that might have been obtained had such orders been placed independently. Under this procedure, transactions will be averaged as to price and will be allocated among clients in proportion to the purchase and sale orders placed for each client account on any given day. GWS will not receive any additional compensation or remuneration as a result of such aggregation.

GWS has adopted certain parameters for the correction of trading errors. When GWS corrects an error, the client will not be disadvantaged and will be made whole. Accordingly, if GWS makes an error while placing a trade for an account, then GWS will bear any costs of correcting such a trade. No portion of any trade error is ever retained by GWS to offset its cost of correction for future errors. GWS maintains a file documenting trade errors and the correction thereof.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

- A. For those clients to whom GWS provides investment supervisory services, account reviews are conducted on a periodic basis by GWS' Principals and/or representatives. Account reviews are conducted semi-annually and quarterly depending on the complexity of the client. All investment supervisory clients are advised that it remains their responsibility to advise GWS of any changes in their investment objective(s) and/or financial situation. All clients (in person or via telephone) are encouraged to review financial planning issues (to the extent applicable), investment objective(s) and account performance with GWS on an annual basis.
- B. GWS conducts account reviews on a periodic basis, upon the occurrence of a triggering event, such as a change in client investment objective(s) and/or financial situation, market corrections, and upon client request.
- C. Clients are provided, at least quarterly, with written transaction confirmation notices and regular written summary account statements directly from the broker-dealer/custodian and/or program sponsor for the client accounts. GWS may also provide a written periodic report summarizing account activity and performance.

Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

- A. As referenced in Item 12.A above, GWS receives economic benefits from Schwab including support services and/or products without cost and/or at a discount. Clients and prospective clients should review Item 12.A.1 above for more information about this arrangement.
- B. GWS does not maintain solicitor arrangements/pay referral fee compensation to non-employees for new client introductions.

Item 15 Custody

GWS shall have the ability to deduct its advisory fee from the client's custodial account. Clients are provided with written transaction confirmation notices, and a written summary account statement directly from the custodian (i.e., Schwab, Fidelity, etc.) at least quarterly. Please Note: The account custodian does not verify the accuracy of GWS' advisory fee calculation.

In addition, GWS and/or certain of its members engage in other services and/or practices (i.e., bill paying, password possession, trustee service, etc.) requiring disclosure at Item 9 of Part 1 of Form ADV. Certain of these services and practices can result in GWS having custody under Rule 206(4)-2 of the Advisers Act. Per the Rule, having such custody requires GWS to undergo an annual surprise CPA examination, and make a corresponding Form ADV-E filing with the SEC, for as long as GWS provides such services and/or engages in such practices. ANY QUESTIONS: GWS' Chief Compliance Officer, Barry Glassman, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding custody-related issues.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

The client can determine to engage GWS to provide investment advisory services on a discretionary basis. Before GWS assumes discretionary authority over a client's account, the client will be required to execute an Investment Advisory Agreement, naming GWS as the client's attorney and agent in fact, granting GWS full authority to buy, sell, or otherwise effect investment transactions involving the assets in the client's name found in the discretionary account. Clients who engage GWS on a discretionary basis may, at any time, impose restrictions, in writing, on GWS' discretionary authority (i.e., limit the types/amounts of particular securities purchased for their account, exclude the ability to purchase securities with an inverse relationship to the market, limit or proscribe GWS' use of margin, etc.).

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

- A. GWS does not vote client proxies. Clients maintain exclusive responsibility for: (1) directing the manner in which proxies solicited by issuers of securities owned by the client will be voted, and (2) making all elections relative to any mergers, acquisitions, tender offers, bankruptcy proceedings or other type events pertaining to the client's investment assets.
- B. Clients will receive their proxies or other solicitations directly from their custodian. Clients may contact GWS to discuss any questions they may have with a particular solicitation.

Item 18 Financial Information

- A. GWS does not solicit fees of more than $1,200, per client, six months or more in advance.
- B. GWS is unaware of any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet its contractual commitments relating to its discretionary authority over certain client accounts.
- C. GWS has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition.

ANY QUESTIONS: GWS' Chief Compliance Officer, Barry Glassman, remains available to address any questions regarding this Part 2A.

Dana G. Sippel has held the designation of Personal Financial Specialist (“PFS”) since 2005. The PFS credential demonstrates that an individual has met the minimum education, experience and testing required of a CPA in addition to a minimum level of expertise in personal financial planning. To attain the PFS credential, a candidate must hold an unrevoked CPA license, certificate, or permit, none of which are in inactive status; fulfill 3,000 hours of personal financial planning business experience; complete 75 hours of personal financial planning CPE credits; pass a comprehensive financial planning exam and be an active member of the AICPA. A PFS credential holder is required to adhere to AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct and the Statement on Standards in Personal Financial Planning Services, when providing personal financial planning services⁴. To maintain their PFS credential, the recipient must complete 60 hours of financial planning CPE credits every three years. The PFS credential is administered through the AICPA.

Dana G. Sippel has held the designation of Certified Public Accountant (“CPA”) since 1987. CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two-year period or 120 hours over a three-year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own. In addition to the Code of Professional Conduct, AICPA members who provide personal financial planning services are required to follow the Statement on Standards in Personal Financial Planning Services (SSPFPS).

Ms. Lee has held the designation of Enrolled Agent (EA) since 2018. Enrolled Agent (EA) is a tax professional who has passed an IRS test covering all aspects of taxation, plus passed an IRS background check. Enrolled Agents have passed a two-day, 8-hour examination. The examination (called the Special Enrollment Examination) covers all aspects of federal tax law, including the taxation of individuals, corporations, partnerships, and various regulations governing IRS collections and audit procedures. Like CPAs and tax attorneys, EAs can handle any type of tax matter and represent their client's interests before the IRS. Unlike CPAs and tax attorneys, Enrolled Agents are tested directly by the IRS, and enrolled agents focus exclusively on tax accounting. The "EA" designation may be revoked by the IRS' Office of Professional Responsibility for malpractice.

Patrick F. McNamara is certified for financial planning services in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”). Therefore, he may refer to himself as a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER® professional or a CFP® professional, and he may use these and CFP Board’s other certification marks (the “CFP Board Certification Marks”). The CFP® certification is voluntary. No federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold the CFP® certification. You may find more information about the CFP® certification at www.cfp.net.

CFP® professionals have met CFP Board’s high standards for education, examination, experience, and ethics. To become a CFP® professional, an individual must fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Earn a bachelor’s degree or higher from an accredited college or university and complete CFP Board-approved coursework at a college or university through a CFP Board Registered Program. The coursework covers the financial planning subject areas CFP Board has determined are necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, as well as a comprehensive financial plan development capstone course. A candidate may satisfy some of the coursework requirement through other qualifying credentials. FP Board implemented the bachelor’s degree or higher requirement in 2007 and the financial planning development capstone course requirement in March 2012. Therefore, a CFP® professional who first became certified before those dates may not have earned a bachelor’s or higher degree or completed a financial planning development capstone course.
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination is designed to assess an individual’s ability to integrate and apply a broad base of financial planning knowledge in the context of real-life financial planning situations.

- Experience – Complete 6,000 hours of professional experience related to the personal financial planning process, or 4,000 hours of apprenticeship experience that meets additional requirements.
- Ethics – Satisfy the Fitness Standards for Candidates for CFP® Certification and Former CFP® Professionals Seeking Reinstatement and agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Code of Ethics and Standards of Conduct (“Code and Standards”), which sets forth the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements to remain certified and maintain the right to continue to use the CFP Board Certification Marks:

- Ethics – Commit to complying with CFP Board’s Code and Standards. This includes a commitment to CFP Board, as part of the certification, to act as a fiduciary, and therefore, act in the best interests of the client, at all times when providing financial advice and financial planning. CFP Board may sanction a CFP® professional who does not abide by this commitment, but CFP Board does not guarantee a CFP® professional’s services. A client who seeks a similar commitment should obtain a written engagement that includes a fiduciary obligation to the client.
- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education every two years to maintain competence, demonstrate specified levels of knowledge, skills, and abilities, and keep up with developments in financial planning. Two of the hours must address the Code and Standards.
